

Was Slayer Acquaintance Of Victim?

(Photo on Picture Page.)

KEOKUK (AP)—The slayer of 2 men in a Keokuk rooming house Sunday night remained at large Wednesday while police worked on the theory that he was an acquaintance of one of the victims, Willard Woodring, 42.

Woodring owned the 2-story building, formerly known as the Hawkeye hotel. It was in a strongbox kept in his car that officers found $45,000 in bills in addition to $1,500 in his room.

Search continued throughout the Midwest for a young man and woman seen leaving the house after others heard gunfire that killed Woodring and a companion, Richard Buchanan, 49, of Colona, Ill.

4 Women Held.
Meanwhile, 4 women who stayed in the place were held Wednesday under $2,000 bond each on charges of inhabiting a disorderly house. They were arraigned Tuesday, waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the grand jury.

The women listed their names as Betty Anders, 22, of St. Louis; Dorothy Madison, 27, of Peoria, Ill.; Barbara Sullivan, 31, of Phoenix, and Jean Lee, 21, of Bloomington, Ill.

Police said the 4 women told this story of the Sunday night incident:

A man and woman came to the house, asked for Woodring, and were admitted. Woodring invited the couple to the kitchen, where the man drew a pistol.

Buchanan and the 4 women were rounded up by the gunman, who asked where they kept their money.

A cigar box on the kitchen table contained $200 and was taken by the man.

bound and the gunman then left the kitchen to go to the front of the house.

Woodring was able to free himself and attacked the man when he reappeared. Buchanan also worked himself free and apparently was shot as he tried to run out a kitchen door.

At an autopsy, two .38 caliber slugs were taken from Woodring's head. A bullet also was found in Buchanan's head. None of the women was hurt.

Pictures of Suspects.

Meanwhile, police awaited the arrival of pictures from Indianapolis authorities of a couple sought there in a service station holdup-killing.

They were identified as Michael W. Layton, 21, and Nancy Fordyce, 19, both of Indianapolis. A murder warrant has been issued for Layton's arrest.

The pictures will be shown the 4 women picked up at the rooming house.

out of order and that "our committee's only concern is the bridge. We're not interested in boating." He also said, "No one in Solon knew about the petition."

The water level had been maintained at 690 feet during the summer, Beranet said, because tests were being taken south of Iowa City in Lone Tree where farmers had complained of flooded land, caused probably more by the spring rains than the dam.

At the meeting Schwenkel said, "Right now the people of Marengo want the level even lower than 680 feet" and that he expected to meet with them shortly.

Among others speaking were Dr. A. N. Humiston of the State Conservation Commission, State Sen. D. C. Nolan, County Engineer Ray Juston, and John Omera of the college of engineering at the University of Iowa.

Better Access.

Dr. Humiston said, "the new bridge will provide a better access to the recreation park—from the west especially.

"We had a full season this last summer. There were times on weekends when there were so many people, we thought we'd have to turn them away at the gate."

Dr. Humiston predicted that once the new bridge was built, there would be "many more visitors."

"I hope we get rid of the bad roads," he commented, "they present a dust problem—it's a wonder there's been no accidents so far."

Committee Cited.

Nolan attributed the greatest credit for getting the new bridge to the Mehaffey Bridge committee which had been working on the project for 4 years. In April $670.50 was raised so several committee members could go to Washington, D.C., and discuss the problem with representatives of the bureau of the budget and the corps of engineers.

"Without the undying devotion and persistence of the committee," Nolan said, "the Mehaffey bridge would have gone down the river."

Nixon May Whistlestop Into Iowa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice-president Richard Nixon might make a whistle-stop train trip into Davenport and Clinton, Ia., as part of a tour of Illinois Oct. 28-29.

But Nixon headquarters in Washington said Wednesday the exact schedule of stops on the 2-day trip would not be worked out until this weekend. A source at headquarters said "there are some choices to be made" before the exact stops can be announced.

As the tentative schedule stands, Nixon would stop at Davenport and Clinton after appearances at Danville, Champaign, Clinton, Bloomington and LaSalle, all in Illinois. After his Iowa stops, the Republican presidential candidate would appear at Dixon, DeKalb and Chicago. The Iowa trip was tentatively set for Oct. 29.

al Committeeman Charles Wittenmeyer, Davenport, said he was in Washington over the weekend trying to get Nixon into the state, but preferably at Cedar Rapids.

Wittenmeyer said there was "nothing firm" on the proposed schedule, but added he "thinks" Nixon will come into Iowa.

Democratic Presidential Candidate John Kennedy is scheduled to visit the Quad Cities area, including Davenport, Oct. 24.

Ailing Winchell To Miss Sunday's Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Winchell, suffering from a cold and abscessed tooth, will miss his ABC-TV show Sunday night, the network said Wednesday.

Substituting will be Columnists Hy Gardner, Sheilah Graham and Irv Kupcinet and Comedian Jack Leonard. The network said Winchell would be back the following Sunday.
