The U.S. attorney's office for the northern district of Iowa may be moved to Cedar Rapids as the result of a re-shuffle of personnel.

Charles Ehrhardt, 26, a native of Elkader, said Friday he will quit as an assistant in the office in two weeks. Ten days ago U.S. Atty. Don O'Brien announced his resignation.

It is believed Edward J. McManus, chief judge for the district, would prefer to have the attorney's office moved here, or at least an assistant available at all times. The judge is on vacation and unavailable for comment.

The U.S. attorney's staff has worked out of Sioux City many years. In any criminal processing or civil matters involving the government, O'Brien or one of his assistants would have to fly here from Sioux City.

While the district marshal's office is still headquartered in Dubuque, because it's the home of Marshal Covell H. Meek, Deputy Dick McKinney is based in Cedar Rapids.

O'Brien, who has held the $19,000 a year post six years, will return to private practice. He may leave the office after completion of next week's grand jury work in Sioux City.

Ehrhardt will teach law at Florida State university at Tallahassee. He has been with the U.S. attorney's office two years.

Acting attorneys may be appointed to fill the void until O'Brien and Ehrhardt can be permanently replaced. Steve Turner will continue as a member of the staff. There is no indication how soon the justice department will fill the jobs.

Randolph Files $4 Million Suit Against Attorney

GUTHRIE CENTER (AP) — Howard Randolph, Guthrie Center business man, has filed a $4 million countersuit in the district court against attorney A. B. Crouch of Des Moines.

Randolph claims Crouch alienated the affections of Randolph's adopted daughters. The counterclaim is in answer to a lawsuit filed against Randolph last year by Crouch and another attorney, Robert Taylor of Guthrie Center. Taylor is not a defendant in Randolph's counterclaim.

Crouch and Taylor are seeking $5,130 for legal services they say they provided for Wendy Randolph, 19, and Vicki Randolph, 17, in support and custody matters after the death of their mother, Mrs. Lillian Elizabeth Randolph.

The 57-year-old Mrs. Randolph, who was estranged from her husband at the time, disappeared from their $60,000 home in Guthrie Center May 2, 1965.

Nine days later her body was found in the trunk of her car at the Des Moines municipal airport. She had been stabbed 12 times. The slaying has not been solved.

Randolph's petition said any compensation due Crouch and Taylor for services to his adoptive daughters is the obligation of Guthrie county.

Police Warn of Callers Posing as Bank Examiners

Men posing as "bank examiners" on the telephone are operating in the Cedar Rapids area again, said Chief of Police George Matias.

Matias said he received information from an elderly woman Thursday that a man had telephoned her saying he was a bank examiner and wanted to verify the amount of money in her account.

A similar swindler's trick was being used in the area about a month ago.

The police chief said most area banks do not call customers to verify accounts, but make inquiries by letter.

The swindlers prey upon elderly persons who might be concerned about the soundness of banks, Matias said.

He advised anyone who receives such a call to confirm the caller's facts by contacting their bank.

Syrian Reds Ask Regime Go Easy In Foreign Stand

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The underground Syrian communist party has called on the Syrian government to end "adventurous slogans and unrealistic upbiddings" in its foreign policy, the newspaper Al Nahar said Friday.

The communists, according to Al Nahar, called on the government to "prove to the Syrian people and to our friends in the world that Syria has learned the appropriate lessons from the battle with Israel."

The communists did not say directly what these lessons should be but called for "a change for the better in the internal political climate and lifting of restrictions on democratic freedoms."

Although the ruling Baath Socialist party in Syria has banned the communists along with all other parties, it recently allowed the Syrian communist leader, Khaled Bagdash, to return to Damascus.

The statement by the Syrian communists, who follow Moscow, appeared to be backing the reported Soviet policy of urging realism and restraint on the Syrian government in the wake of the war with Israel.

The regime lately has muted its previous calls for continuation of the war until victory is achieved.

Draft Call Rise Expected In Light of Viet Buildup

By Bob Horton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher draft calls and a possible $2-billion supplemental defense budget request are likely as a result of President Johnson's ordered troop increase for Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

Exactly how high draft calls will go is being determined in a Pentagon study of what the newly authorized 525,000-man level for Vietnam next summer will do to over-all U.S. military strength.

Announced draft calls for the five months extending through September have risen to an average of about 23,000 a month. This reflects in part the Pentagon move to meet its 1966-approved Vietnam manpower ceiling of 490,000.

Sources said draft calls during the last quarter of this year likely will exceed 35,000 a month.

Trimming Seen — Sources say Secretary McNamara believes $2 billion in planned spending can be trimmed from the defense budget to offset partly the possible $4-billion overrun mentioned by the President.

Boy's Catch Wasn't What He Was After

Craig Beadle may not be able to set any records in the 100-yard dog paddle, but he's mighty handy with a fishing pole.

Shortly before noon Thursday, Craig used his pole to fish out a seven-year-old boy from the Cedar river.

Craig, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Beadle, 5411 Plainview drive NW, had gone fishing with his buddy, Craig, who will be a sixth grader at Truman elementary this fall, was trying his luck near the dam.

A little boy, playing in the water nearby, fell into a deep spot and began yelling. Craig went into action.

On the first attempt, Craig fell into the water. On the second, the fishing pole came apart, but on the third try he hauled in the water-logged youngster.

"The current would have carried him into real trouble," said Craig. After the rescue the youngster ran off.

"He wasn't a very good swimmer," he added. Craig was asked if he was a good swimmer.

"Well, yeh," he hesitated. "Our group finished second from last at Ellis park."
