Garbage Gulper

This new device for garbage collection promises to cut municipal costs while eliminating odors and insects and the noise normally associated with garbage collection. This Mechanical Bag Retriever (MBR) is an oil company's entry into the $5 billion municipal refuse collection market. Here the MBR scoops up plastic bags of trash and garbage, which it will then place on the conveyor belt (next to driver's cab) for transfer into the packer unit of the otherwise standard truck. The MBR is operated by one man instead of the three required on a conventional truck. In addition, the use of plastic bags aids in insect and rodent control, does away with garbage odor and provides nonpolluting disposal of refuse either by burning or burial.

assessors that owners of boats, snowmobiles, mini-bikes and other "mobile" vehicles pay a license fee rather than be assessed a personal property tax.

Treasurers
The joint committee is drafting a bill to put motor vehicle the vehicle, rather than the present system of using both the price and the weight of the auto.

County assessors told the lawmakers that the shift would not greatly alter the present license fee schedule. However, they noted, the switch would allow an individual to deduct the entire cost of the license fee on his federal income tax return.

Besides, said the assessors, it would greatly simplify procedures for them.

The legislators rejected a proposal by the treasurers that the penalty and interest rate on delinquent real estate and personal property tax be raised to one per cent a month. The Legislature recently raised the rate from one-half to three-fourths of one per cent a month.

The proposed rate of one per cent a month figures out at 12 per cent a year; the committee thought the present rate, which is nine per cent a year, is sufficient.

Author Wylie Dies in Miami
MIAMI (AP) — Philip Wylie, the iconoclast-sociologist whose book "Generation of Vipers" incensed America's women in 1942, died here Monday of a heart ailment. He was 69.

Wylie succumbed at Doctor's Hospital after being stricken early Monday morning. A resident of Hawaii the past three years, he and his wife were visiting friends in Miami.

A noted conservationist who warned against the dangers of world-wide pollution, Wylie touched off a furor in 1942 when he coined the term "momism," in describing what he said was the behavior of women who dominate their sons. In "Generation of Vipers," Wylie claimed a generation of American mothers had established a tyranny over the intellect and wills of their sons and that the nation was centered around mother worship.

Cost of Living
The standing House and Senate committees on county government took no action on a proposal from county treasurers to provide the treasurers with an extra $500 annually for additional work imposed by the Legislature. However, the lawmakers did authorize a subcommittee to take a look at a proposal from county recorders that a cost-of-living factor be included in the salary formula for all county officials.

John Connolly confirmed Sunday night that the former Democratic senator from Minnesota plans to mail letters Tuesday announcing plans to establish "a formal campaign committee."

The letter also will say that McCarthy "intends to run in nonprimary states and is contemplating entering some of the primaries," Connolly said.

LBJ Reflects On Tet Offensive
NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says in his memoirs that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong suffered "a military defeat of massive proportions" in the 1968 Communist Tet offensive.

But the defeat "did not have the telling effect it should have had largely because of what we did to ourselves," Johnson added in the eighth installment of his memoirs published Sunday in the New York Times.

"There was a great deal of emotional and exaggerated reporting of the Tet offensive in our press and on television. The media seemed to be in competition as to who could provide the most lurid and depressing accounts," Johnson wrote.

IRA Retaliates for Weekend Killings In North Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A woman guerrilla opened fire on British troops Monday and was shot down and wounded, military sources reported.

The shooting occurred as the Irish Republican Army began striking back with bombs and bullets in retaliation for the weekend killing of two women by British troops.

The incident, in which one soldier was wounded, underlined what the British say may be a dangerous new phase in Northern Ireland's violence—the increasing deployment of women and girls by the outlawed IRA.

Riots Follow
A storm of riot and protest followed the Saturday killings of 19-year-old Dorothy Maguire and her married sister, Mary Meehan, 30, mother of four children.

They were hit by army bullets as they drove with friends through Belfast's Lower Falls district, an IRA stronghold.

The army insisted that two shots had been fired at soldiers from the car, and that troops were justified in firing back.

Associates denied that the sisters had fired. Gerry Fitt, member of Parliament for the area, said he knew the women and they were not involved in IRA affairs.

Identified
This morning's Irish News, a Roman Catholic daily, carried death notices, however, identifying Miss Maguire as a staff officer of Cumann Na Bhan, the IRA women's organization.

The notices were signed by "A" and "B" companies of the IRA's 1st Belfast Battalion. Notices like these are the traditional way of announcing IRA casualties.

This morning's shooting came in Belfast's Andersonstown district.

The army said troops searching houses for arms came under fire at several places.

It added: "At Drummoan Gardens, soldiers protecting a search party were fired on by two terrorists. The soldiers shot back and one of the terrorists fell."

To Hospital
Shortly afterwards the woman was taken to Royal Victoria Hospital.

Another woman was shot and wounded Sunday night by plainclothes police who said she helped plant a bomb in a downtown Belfast club. Her male companion was killed.

Pictures in Irish newspapers recently have shown young women under arms training. Girls were among a firing party which last month fired a volley over the coffin of Rose Curry, 18, who was blown up with her boyfriend as accomplices in planting bombs. Couples have been seen posing as young lovers in shop doorways. When they move on, a bomb goes off.

The security forces claim to have captured at least 300 hard-core IRA gunmen since intervention without trial was ordered Aug. 9. Now the army says newly trained girls may be coming forward to take their place.

In addition to the woman guerrilla and the British soldier, the over-all weekend toll in Northern Ireland since Saturday was six civilians killed and one wounded by troops and police. Five soldiers and a policeman were wounded by snipers.

Shot in Head
The policeman was shot in the head early Monday when he looked out of an upstairs window at his home after a knock on the front door. His condition was critical.

Detectives said they shot and killed a man, wounded a woman and captured another man Sunday after the trio planted a bomb that wrecked a Belfast night club.

The customers fled through windows and doors, and no one was injured in the explosion.

Police said the three terrorists, who were armed with automatic pistols, did not heed an order to halt, and officers opened fire.

2 Chinas Outcome In UN Is Uncertain

Associated Press Writer UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats said the race was still neck and neck Monday as the General Assembly neared a vote on whether to oust Nationalist China from the United Nations. Some said it might end in a tie.

The key issue was an American resolution to make the ouster an "important question," requiring a two-thirds majority for passage.

Optimism
"We think we're going to win that vote," said a spokesman for the U.S. delegation. One diplomat friendly to the American cause figured they had a 58-57 or 59-57 advantage with more favorable votes possible.

However, another friendly diplomat calculated the vote at 59-58 against the resolution or a 58-58 tie. Other assessments were that from 58 to 61 delegations were ready to vote against it and only from 56 to 58 were for it.

Should there be a tie, a second vote would be taken within 48 hours. If the tie persisted, the resolution would fail.

Vote Hopes
Assembly President Adam Malik of Indonesia was said to hope the vote could come late Monday. But key delegations believed the voting would start Tuesday.

The "important question" resolution was crucial because the Albanian resolution to seat the Chinese Communists and oust the Nationalists is certain to get a majority in the Assembly but not a two-thirds majority.

The Albanian resolution was entitled to be voted on first because it was submitted first. But the United States had a motion pending to give its resolution priority.

The United States was also pushing a "dual representation" resolution to offer both the Communists and the Nationalists seats in the Assembly and offer the Communists the Chinese seat on the Security Council.

Peking has said repeatedly that they would have nothing to do with the United Nations as long as the Nationalists remain in it. Their supporters in the world organization say they mean it, but the Americans say there is no way to tell without trying them out.

Italian Factor
The United States made one gain Sunday when officials in Rome said Italy would vote for the Albanian resolution but would abstain from the vote on the important question resolution. Many observers had believed Italy would vote against it.

Sources in Jerusalem said the Israeli Cabinet decided Sunday that Israel would vote for the U.S. resolution but this had been generally expected.

Derailment At Lorimor
LORIMOR, Iowa (P) — Crews worked through the night Sunday and early Monday to clear up the wreckage of 20 cars which derailed from a Chicago & Northwestern Railway freight near here Sunday.

Officials said a number of the cars were carrying 1972 model automobiles, and that the autos were badly damaged as the train toppled from the tracks in Union County.

Cause of the derailment could not immediately be learned, nor was there any early estimate of damage.

According to reports, there were no injuries.

Bank Credit Cards Short On Profits
NEW YORK (AP) — Sixty million Americans are using bank credit cards to charge purchases at a rate of about $8 billion a year. But the profit bonanza envisioned by banks is yet to materialize, and many merchants have become disenchanted.

Some financial sources estimate that banks lost an aggregate $115 million on their credit card operations in 1970 and that they are likely to go even deeper into the red this year.

Difficulty in generating a profit from the proliferating card business is attributed to customer fraud, theft, default on account payments, mismanagement, collusion by merchants and the high cost of processing records of transactions.

The American Bankers Association reports that 9,111 banks are involved in card operations, some on their own and many in association with others.

Third Young Woman Found Slain Leaves Widening Aura of Mystery

OSKALOOSA, Iowa (AP) — A young woman whose body was found near here over the weekend died of an undetermined number of bullet wounds to the face, the Iowa Bureau of Criminal Investigation said Monday.

The bureau released the information after an autopsy on the body of Karen Goers, 23, of Oskaloosa.

Miss Goers' body was found Sunday in a ditch alongside a country road four miles northeast of here.

She was the third young woman killed in a month at three different places in Iowa. All three were employed as waitresses.

"I don't think there's any connection," said Mahaska County Sheriff Dave Reese Sunday night.

Saxton said a farmer found

Dr. M. L. Saxton, Mahaska County medical examiner, said Miss Goers' body was sent to Des Moines Sunday for an autopsy.

Reese had said Sunday, "we don't know the cause of death at this time."

Saxton did say "there is evidence she was slain."

Miss Goers was last seen alive about 3 a.m. Friday, reportedly getting into a car driven by a man in downtown Oskaloosa.

She was a waitress in the Iowa Cafe here, owned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Goers. According to reports, she had closed up the business for the night and had taken the receipts to her parents' home before she disappeared.

Viet Cong Guerrilla Tactics Philippine Deaths: 17

MANILA (AP) — Using Viet dawn. At midmorning about 2 1/2 miles from the Town Hall, where the detachment was pinned down, the relief troops were hit by heavy weapons fire, the colonel said.

Lanao has been wracked with violence since July, mostly because of political differences although some has stemmed from land squabbles and ethnic disputes between Christians and Moslems. The colonel said the ambushers were believed to have been Moslems.

Retrieve Dead
Constabulary soldiers followed up the ambush in armored cars, retrieved the dead and wounded army men, then set out again for Magsasay, the officer said. At dusk the detachment of almost 20 men was still pinned down and had not been reinforced, he said.

The troubled province had been generally peaceful for several weeks, but the ambush was just one of several incidents Monday.

Plane Hit
An army reconnaissance plane was hit by what was thought to be rifle fire as it passed over the area of Magsasay, the constabulary reported. It made a forced landing at a nearby coastal town without casualties, although the aircraft was damaged.

Another group of 30 soldiers was ambushed by a gang of about 70 men, the constabulary said, and the outlaws were believed to be Moslems. One soldier was wounded before the attack was broken off.

Ambush
There were a number of small attacks on civilians reported, including an ambush of a bus in which two persons were killed. The Philippine News Service said six civilians were slain in the province during the day.
