

SAHA OF PERSIA IN INTERVIEW

Persian Ruler Wants Closer Relations With The United States.

By EUGENE LYONS (U. P. Staff Correspondent) (Copyright in all countries 1933 by United Press)

My audience with the Shah, the first he has granted to a foreign newspaperman, was marked by utter simplicity. Here was a man who rose from a private soldier to the famous "peacock throne."

His own words, he is a "simple soldier" who loves his job. Riza Shah Pahlavi, Persia's Shahanshah—King of Kings—who defied the British empire by arbitrarily cancelling the contract by which the Anglo-Persian Oil Company exploits the Persian oil field, denied foreign interests were responsible for cancellation.

He said he desired the door open for negotiations, but in view of the governing attitude of the British government (which controls the company) had presented the matter to the league of nations.

He sincerely hopes that this friendship will deepen and bear fruit in closer cultural ties and larger economic relations to our mutual benefit. If any incident or misunderstanding has arisen, I want to assure America that the responsibility does not rest on my government or on the intelligent, patriotic portion of my people, who are always anxious to strengthen our traditional bonds of friendship.

The Shah, tall and broad shouldered, looked younger than his 40 years. He is usually up by 4:00 o'clock in the morning, and personally watches and controls every phase of Persia's affairs.

He reminded me of the late Marshall Foch. His sharply defined features, iron grey moustache, and thick hair showing under his visored, military hat gave his face undiminished strength. His eyes, widely and almost green, occasionally were alight with humor.

The audience was held in his office at the royal palace. It was a relatively small room, with a lofty ceiling. The floor was strewn with magnificent rugs. There was a writing desk of gold, ivory, and mosaic. Otherwise, the furnishings were simple. Over the desk was a huge wall map of Persia. A stack of books and pamphlets created the impression of a business executive rather than an oriental monarch.

"Your majesty's extraordinary rise to power," I said, "has touched the world's imagination like a modern Arabian nights tale. What elements of your character explain this success?"

The Shah laughed. He fingered a string of flame colored amber beads, and replied: "It is not easy to answer. But I should summarize my own explanation. I am a soldier, a simple soldier, and I love my job."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect to have your bowels sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's substitute. Get it at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Todhunter were guests at a New Year's party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Duff home at Volga City.

Miss Jessie Kershaw returned to her home at Minneapolis after a visit in the home of her father, John Kershaw. Colorado Springs, Colo., (UP)—The temperature had dropped to about 20 degrees below zero and the whole town was cold. But an enterprising reporter, despite the fact that his nose for news was slightly numbed by the frigid blasts, discovered one man living in a tent, and a couple living in an automobile—and not complaining about the cold either.

FRIGID WEATHER DOESN'T FAZE OUTDOOR CAMPERS. A old prospector who came into the Bear Creek region from Arizona last summer is sticking it out through the winter in a canvas tent. He has an old oil stove for cooking purposes, and to heat the tent, and is getting along "fine," he said. A young couple who came here from Ohio in August have been living in a sedan not far from the prospector's camp, cooking their food on an open fire in front of the machine. They have kept "comfortable," they said.

AVIATORS ARE AIDED BY NEW WEATHER MAPS. Chicago—(UP)—Weather maps "drawn" by teletype and reproduced at airports hundreds of miles away, are the latest aid to air navigation. The system is being demonstrated daily. The Department of Commerce has installed the new system on the New York-Chicago-Pacific Coast Lines of the United Air Lines the latest being set up in Chicago. Every three hours a master weather chart is prepared at central points from where data is transmitted over the teletype circuit along the airways and facilities are available at many airports within a few moments. The machine eliminates the hand-drawn map and provides speed, economy and uniformity.

RESTAURANTS ARE GRADED. Brookline, Mass.—(UP)—Restaurants in this town are inspected by health authorities and listed as "excellent," "good," or "fair," for the guidance of physicians in recommending eating places to patients. School began Monday morning after a two weeks holidays vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Peters and family of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Klingman and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ernst at lot Wadena called Sunday afternoon to see and visit.
