Blanchard has two new ag plants

BLANCHARD — A brand new elevator was put into operation in this community just a short time ago and already a new plant is being built: which will be a huge fertilizer mixing plant for the Midwest.

Farmers Co-Operative Elevator Co put up the 50,000 bushel capacity elevator, starting operation in early October. It stands as mute sentinel of confidence in the agricultural community—and a first response has been tremendous during the present soy bean harvest.

Fund reaches within $1,000 of 1965 goal

Clarinda Community Fund is within $1,000 of reaching its $10,750 goal, Marvin Wol-druff reported this Monday.

"And we still have two areas which have not reported," he adds. There are also several "call-backs" which will be made this week at homes where residents were not at home when the first call was made.

Marvin Fulk elected Farm Bureau president

History was made in Page County Farm Bureau when the son of a former president was chosen to the top position.

Marvin D Fulk, who had declined the post a year ago because of health reasons, was made president. Wilbur Stefering had completed his third year in the presidency, and was made voting delegate for the county organization, Donald Borthwick vice president, Herman Hoyt treasurer, Marvin Hillman secretary, and Mrs Roy Whigham women's chairman.

Final resolutions adopted, based mostly on the opinionaires, but including minor amendment, added a clause to the tax for roads that any increase should be administered under the same formula as now in effect for cities and rural roads. But the church and school exemptions on income properties was soundly turned down and an attempt failed to make tax replacement on personal property only.
